

Lily's Forest Adventure

Lily moved to a new town last year with her family. She feels excited about exploring the nearby forest but is also a bit nervous since it's different from her old home.

One sunny day, Lily decides to explore the forest. She meets three friendly rabbits named Hoppy, Binky, and Benny. They welcome her with carrots and tell her about the magical creatures that live in the woods.

While playing, the rabbits notice that one of them has lost an acorn. Lily offers to help find it. They all search together, using their senses to track down the tiny nut hiding under a bush.

As they celebrate finding the acorn, Lily accidentally steps on a butterfly's wings. She feels guilty and learns that even in nature, we must be careful not to disturb others. The rabbits teach her about being kind to all living things.

Feeling inspired by her new friends and the lesson she learned, Lily says goodbye to the rabbits. She walks back home feeling happy and ready to continue exploring the forest, but now with a deeper understanding of respect for nature and its inhabitants.

Making new friends can be exciting, but it's important to respect others' space and belongings.
