

Buddy Finds a Friend

Buddy woke up with a wet nose early one morning. He was curious about the world outside his cozy home. As he explored the garden, he met a friendly little rabbit named Rosie.

Buddy and Rosie became the best of friends. They loved playing together and sharing their favorite treats. One day, Buddy brought his bone to share with Rosie.

One rainy afternoon, Buddy and Rosie got lost while playing. They were scared but remembered to stay calm. Together, they followed the sound of water until they found their way back home.

Excited to have a new friend, Buddy invited all the animals in the garden to a big party. They enjoyed games, songs, and delicious snacks under the bright sun.

From that day on, Buddy was never alone. He had not only a home but also many animal friends who cared for him and brought him lots of joy.

Making new friends can bring joy and help us feel less alone.
